Dear Honourable Minister,

2024 GENERAL ELECTIONS REPORT

Honourable Minister, a report on the 2024 General Elections is hereby submitted to your esteemed office in accordance with Section 65 A (13) of the Constitution of Botswana. The 2024 General Elections were held on Wednesday the 30th October 2024. This occurred after the dissolution of Parliament on the 5th September, 2024 and issuance of a Writ of Election on the same day by His Excellency the President of the Republic, directing for National Assembly elections to take place in all the Sixty-one (61) constituencies.

On the same day, the Honourable Minister of Local Government and Rural Development issued an Election Instrument, in accordance with Section 154 (2) of the Electoral Act, for Local Government elections to be conducted in all the Six hundred and nine (609) Polling Districts. Nominations for Presidential candidates were held on the 28th September 2024, whilst nominations for both National Assembly and Local Government candidates were held on the 4th October 2024.

This report comprehensively presents the activities and processes that were undertaken by the Independent Electoral Commission to deliver free, fair, credible and transparent General Elections. The report also covers the results of the 2024 General Elections, as well as achievements, challenges encountered and lessons learnt during the elections.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Hon. Justice Barnabas Nyamadzabo
CHAIRMAN, IEC

.....
Mr. Jeff Siamisang
SECRETARY, IEC

Acknowledgements

The Independent Electoral Commission wishes to extend gratitude to all those who made the 2024 General Elections a reality, and a resounding success. A special thank you goes to all the eligible voters who turned up in large numbers to register during the Voters Registration period. This allowed them to exercise their constitutional right to vote a government of their choice on the 30th October 2024.

A deep sense of gratitude is further extended to all stakeholders including political parties, Civic Society Organisations and the media fraternity for the invaluable contribution in ensuring the citizenry stayed informed throughout the Electoral Cycle. This contribution was provided through civic and voter education activities.

Moreover, our heartfelt gratitude goes to all those who contributed to the delivery of free, fair and credible elections by serving as Poll Staff. Their commitment, sacrifices and utmost dedication, borne from their patriotism, contributed immensely to the Commission's success in delivering the 2024 General Elections.

We also thank Professor David Sebudubudu and the Department of Political and Administrative Studies of the University of Botswana for a job well done in terms of editorial services and advising when this report was written.

Lastly, the Independent Electoral Commission appreciates the unwavering support it received from various entities and the critical role they played such as the Judiciary, Government Ministries, Attorney General's Chambers, Local Authorities, the Department of Shared Digital Services, Government Fleet Management, the Department of Government Printing and Publishing Services, Department of Broadcasting Services, Botswana Police Service and Department of Civil and National Registration.

Thank You!

1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Context

Section 1 of the Constitution of the Republic of Botswana declares Botswana as a sovereign Republic. The import of this is that the government in Botswana is formed according to the choice of the citizens, through an organised method. This declares elections central to the country's governance system, through which citizens who are eligible to vote can hold the government accountable every five years, consistent with its established democratic practice.

The Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) is the authority that manages elections at the national and local government levels. The creation and configuration of the IEC is prescribed in terms of Section 65 A of the Constitution of Botswana, which makes it a critical structure owing to the role it plays in the country's democratic process. It was established following persistent misgivings in certain quarters over the independence of the structures that managed elections prior to the IEC, namely the Permanent Secretary to the President, and the Office of the Supervisor of Elections, respectively.

Consequently, the IEC was created as part of an effort to build trust in electoral management, enhance the country's democratisation process and to align it with international norms and standards. This was critical because it has been proven that the nature and structure of an electoral body had a positive effect on its integrity. To this extent, the establishment of the IEC in the current formation enhanced its credibility. For the sake of clarity, Section 65A (12) of the Constitution of Botswana prescribes the duties of the IEC as follows:

- a. To manage and oversee elections of the members of the National Assembly and Local Authorities, and supervise a referendum;
- b. To give instructions and guidance to the Secretary to the IEC in terms of the electoral law;
- c. To see to it that elections are managed competently, correctly, freely and impartially;
- d. To execute additional functions as may be set down by an Act of Parliament.

The IEC is supported by the Secretary to the Independent Electoral Commission (SIEC) who is the Accounting Officer of the Election Management Body (EMB). SIEC is appointed by the President in accordance with Section 66 of the Constitution of Botswana. His functions as outlined in Section 66 of the Constitution, and Sections 3 and 5 of the Electoral Act include;

- To ensure general supervision over the voter registration exercise and conduct of the elections.
- To issue to election officers and registration officers such instructions as he may deem necessary to ensure effective execution of the provisions of the Electoral Act.
- To divide constituencies into polling districts and establish polling stations following delimitation of constituencies.

In Botswana, the Electoral Cycle runs for five (5) years, and therefore, the period from 2019 through 2024 represents an Electoral Cycle. The 13th Electoral Cycle delivered the 2024 General Elections, and these were the 6th elections organized by the IEC, since its creation in 1997.

Undoubtedly, the IEC has been bestowed with an onerous mandate that requires the electoral authority to enjoy the trust of all critical stakeholders for it to discharge its responsibilities without any hindrance. Despite persistent doubts over its independence, the IEC has successfully managed six general elections since its creation. The 2024 general elections were historic and consequential, as they marked a change of government that ended 58 years of the Botswana Democratic Party's (BDP) rule. The elections were won by the opposition coalition Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) and in turn the country registered a seamless transfer of power, thus offering lessons to other countries in the region and beyond. This peaceful transfer of power affirmed the country's democratic trajectory, attracting approval both locally and internationally.

1.2 Electoral System

In Botswana, the government is elected by using the First Past the Post (FPTP) voting system, a system that the country has sustained since its pre-independence elections in 1965. This electoral system is used to determine the election outcome for National Assembly and Local Authorities. The National Assembly and Local Government Elections are conducted concurrently in Botswana.

Following the decisions of Parliament and the 2022 Delimitation Commission that altered the number of elected seats in the National Assembly and constituency boundaries, respectively, the number of constituencies contested for during the 2024 General Elections increased to 61, up from 57 in 2019, and each constituency returned one elected member to the National Assembly. At the Local Government level, the 2023 Demarcation Committees established by the SIEC in accordance with Section 5 of the Electoral Act increased polling districts to 609, up from 490 during the 2019 General Elections. Each polling district returned a councilor.

1.3 Strategic Imperative

Consistent with its Vision, the IEC develops a Strategic Plan at the end of every 5-year Electoral Cycle for the period leading to the next elections. The Strategic Plan was crafted and defined to ensure that all the critical elements required to deliver the Electoral Cycle were adequately attended to. The Strategic Plan was meant to drive capacity building, optimise business processes, improve resource management, and ultimately enhance voter participation, and service delivery. Evidently, the Implementation of the 2020-2025 Strategic Plan facilitated the delivery of the 2024 general elections.

2.0 LEGAL FRAMEWORK

The IEC is a product of a particular environment and therefore it does not operate in a vacuum. It requires an enabling legal framework for it to effectively and efficiently deliver on its mandate. Thus, it is a permanent legal entity which is a creation of the Constitution of Botswana – demonstrating its importance to the country's governance process. Therefore, the IEC discharges its mandate in accordance with a number of laws that define its parameters, and these include among others the Constitution of Botswana, the Presidential Elections (Supplementary Provisions) Act, the Electoral Act, the Local Government Act and Referendum Act.

2.1 Constitution of Botswana

This is the primary legislation that is the foundation of all laws that govern elections and associated activities. The Constitution, among others, provides for;

- a. Election, and qualification for election as President
- b. The composition of Parliament, and the National Assembly and defines tenure of office for its members and disqualifications thereof;
- c. Establishment of the electoral commission and its key responsibilities;
- d. Appointment of the Secretary to the electoral commission, who is the administrative head of the Commission;
- e. The Franchise.

2.2 Presidential Elections (Supplementary Provisions) Act

This Act among others governs the nomination of presidential candidates, appointment of authenticating officers, authentication of support papers, declaration of candidates validly nominated, inspection of nomination and support papers, choice of colour and symbol, and associated penalties.

2.3 Electoral Act

The Electoral Act is a critical legislation that integrates laws associated with elections of the National Assembly and Local Government, qualifications and registration of voters, management of elections, and other purposes connected to elections, including election petitions, and proscribed practices and associated offences and penalties.

2.4 Local Government Act

This Act governs the composition of local authorities, qualifications for membership of local authorities, tenure of office of members, vacation of seats and the process involved in filling vacancies in local authorities, among others.

2.5 Referendum Act

This Act provides for the process involved in holding a referendum, prohibited practices and how a referendum petition is presented in case it arises.

3.0 PRE-ELECTION PHASE

The pre-election phase is the period that precedes the election period. In the main, this is the preparatory phase or period of an election that chronicles all the activities that took place immediately before the election period. It entails planning in preparation for an election, training of officials and relevant stakeholders, information sharing with voters and key stakeholders, and registration of voters, among others. This is a critical phase of an Electoral Cycle that requires intense coordination to ensure a successful election.

The successful completion of the 2022 National Housing and Population Census prompted a number of key electoral activities during the pre-election phase being Delimitation Exercise, Demarcation Exercise and establishment of polling stations and subsequently Voter Registration Exercise and its associated activities.

3.1 Delimitation of Constituencies

On 13th May 2022, the Delimitation Commission was appointed in accordance with Section 64 (1) and (2) of the Constitution of Botswana, and it successfully delivered its report to His Excellency the President of the Republic of Botswana on the 8th February 2023. The Delimitation Commission altered constituency boundaries and increased the number of constituencies from 57 to 61. The said Commission immediately stood dissolved in terms of Section 65(8) of the Constitution after it submitted its report. The completion of the delimitation exercise in turn prompted the demarcation of polling districts and creation of polling stations.

3.2 Demarcation of Polling Districts and Establishment of Polling Stations

Section 5(1) of the Electoral Act empowers the Secretary to the IEC to establish polling districts and polling stations. Following submission of the Delimitation Report in February 2023, the Secretary to the IEC successfully proceeded to fulfill this mandate. This exercise entailed the establishment of forty-four Demarcation Committees throughout the country that consisted of nine members. As per Botswana's democratic culture, the process involved wide consultations throughout the country using established structures, especially the Kgotla, a highly revered structure that is considered non-partisan. The exercise generated 609 polling districts from the 490 that were in place, while 2808 polling stations were created locally and 52 in the diaspora, compared to 2260 local and 36 diaspora polling stations that were in existence. The committees arrived at their decision based on a number of factors, and these included: population density, population quota, means of communication, geographic features, human settlements patterns, constituency boundaries and natural community of interest.

3.3 Civic and Voter Education

The conjectural literature and indeed democratic practice have affirmed that civic and voter education is a fundamental constituent to achieve a legitimate, sustained and stable democracy. This calls for a need to comprehensively educate the citizenry on their rights and civic duties and the conditions under which elections are conducted as well as the set of rules and regulations that govern elections. Undoubtedly, comprehensive civic and voter education is central as it accords the voter the freedom to make critical and informed decisions when exercising their democratic right to vote. In Botswana, civic education is not the mandate of the IEC.

3.3.1 Civic Education

As civic education fell outside the mandate of the IEC, it was conducted by a number of key stakeholders, such as political parties, civil society organisations and the media. The IEC commends these stakeholders for utilising their limited resources to undertake this critical aspect in the electoral process. However, the IEC feels strongly that for civic education to be deliberate and well-coordinated, it should be part of the statutory mandate of the IEC provided for in the Electoral Act. It is imperative that these aspects are scaled up and properly coordinated to ensure a robust democracy.

3.3.2 Voter Education

Voter Education is the cornerstone of participatory democracy as it plays a critical role towards enhanced and active participation of the electorate in the electoral process. In recognition of the importance of voter education in an electoral process, the IEC engaged extensively with a wide spectrum of stakeholders throughout the Electoral Cycle.

Voter education was guided by the phase of the Electoral Cycle, and the message was packaged around key activities associated with a particular phase of the Electoral Cycle. The IEC conducted voter education through its thirty-one outstations, in a bid to inform and educate voters on both the electoral and voting processes. The most frequently used forum in conducting voter education that targeted the general public were Kgotla meetings. Furthermore, workshops and activities were conducted that targeted the Youth, Women, Faith Sector, People with Disability and Community Leadership to ensure that tailored voter education reached the intended audience. In addition, voter education materials such as posters, pamphlets and booklets (including picture books, voting instructions for the visually impaired) were used to aid in bringing out the message on the 2024 elections.

A substantial number of stakeholder interactions and sensitisation meetings were conducted by the SIEC which covered all the districts. The SIEC also engaged extensively and comprehensively with local authorities, community leadership and the electorate in general to ensure that all were prepared accordingly for the elections.

The transmission of voter education was also enhanced through the use of the following medium of communication:

3.3.3 Television

Two television channels of YTV, a private television station, and Botswana Television (BTV) which is a state-owned broadcaster, were utilised to advance voter education. Interviews and infographics were conducted and presented through these mediums to deliver key messages during prime time.

3.3.4 Radio

Radio remains an effective source of information and medium of communication. All commercial radio stations and state-owned radio stations were engaged at various intervals to communicate key electoral messages throughout the Electoral Cycle. The messages were communicated through interviews, jingles, adverts and songs composed around a specific electoral activity.

3.3.5 Newspapers

Newspaper advertisements and comic strips were utilised to attract the attention of the public on key electoral activities. The IEC targeted all local newspapers to reach out to a wide spectrum of readership.

3.3.6 Posters and Pamphlets

Activation plans were developed by all the IEC District Offices where posters and pamphlets were printed and used to enhance publicity.

Picture 2: General Voter Registration Activation Publicity

3.3.7 IEC Toll-Free Number

The IEC operates a toll-free number where the public can call and make enquiries on any election related matters. The toll-free number provides an opportunity for the public to get real-time answers as they were directed to the relevant department where an officer was readily available to assist.

3.3.8 Social Media

The IEC Facebook page and Twitter Handle proved impactful and useful on information sharing as was shown by an increase on their engagement by the general public especially during two critical periods in the Electoral Cycle: the voter registration (5th January to 31st May 2024) and the election periods (28th September to 4th November 2024). Content and Post Views stood at 800 000 and 1 800 000 during voter registration exercise and the Election periods, respectively. This was further enhanced by the use of infographics to convey specific targeted key messages. The social media platforms also provided real time responses to the public on their enquiries. These platforms were monitored on a weekly basis. The IEC's Facebook page followers stood at 96, 546 of which 47% were male and 53.2% were female. The youth represented 76% of the commission's followers.

Picture 3: Infographics

3.3.9 Billboards

The use of static and digital billboards provided an opportunity to enhance publicity and visibility over a prolonged period. A combination of static and digital billboards was placed in strategic locations spread out throughout the country to intensify publicity for both the Voter Registration exercise and 2024 General Elections. These billboards were leased for a period of up to a month from private suppliers while a few are owned by the IEC.

Picture 4: General Voter Registration Billboard

3.3.10 Salary Advice Slips

Civil Servants comprise a substantial number of the electorate and it was imperative that a deliberate effort be made to educate and inform them on the electoral process. In recognition of this, advertising of the dates of the voter registration exercise was done through their Salary Advice Slips in collaboration with the Accountant General in the Ministry of Finance.

3.4 Stakeholder Engagements

Stakeholder collaboration and engagement are of paramount importance during an Electoral Cycle to ensure a successful election that is considered credible and legitimate. In line with this, the IEC made physical interaction with stakeholders a priority. Collaborative efforts were also undertaken with other key players in the democratic and elections space. These collaborations assisted the Election Management Body to reach out to a wider stakeholder community and supported the work of the IEC to deliver credible and legitimate 2024 General Elections.

3.4.1 Botswana Association of the Deaf

The Botswana Association of the Deaf is a non-governmental and charitable organisation that exists to for advocate, empower and promote the interests of Deaf population in Botswana. Universal suffrage is extended to all eligible citizens including marginalised groups and People with disabilities. In ensuring that no citizen was disenfranchised, the IEC comprehensively interacted with the Botswana Association of the Deaf through a stakeholder Engagement Workshop. The aim of the workshop was to educate and sensitise them on the electoral processes so that they were not left out.

3.4.2 Youth Involvement

The youth form a substantial percentage of Botswana's population. It was critical that the IEC made youth participation in the electoral process a priority. As part of its efforts to embrace the youth, the IEC implemented two flagship programmes targeted at enhancing youth participation, Democracy Youth Clubs and Youth Ambassador programme, which were evaluated in 2023. These informed and guided the activities that were developed in engaging the youth in the build-up to 2024 elections.

3.4.3 Political Parties

Political Parties are primary stakeholders that require constant engagement throughout the Electoral Cycle in order to build trust in the EMB and the electoral process. A lack of trust in the electoral process may lead to uncertainty. The IEC engaged political parties on a continuous basis at the district level through the Party Liaison Committees (PLC) and workshops. Each political party had two representatives in PLC. The IEC also offered regular updates on electoral activities to political parties at the national level through the All-Party Conference that was convened by the Minister for State President.

3.4.4 Botswana Police Service

The role of security in elections was critical in the delivery of credible elections. There were several workshops held for Police Officers aimed at equipping and sensitising them on their obligations during elections. These workshops targeted officers at all levels, from senior to junior officers. The Botswana Police Service proved to be a valuable partner to deliver a peaceful 2024 General Elections.

3.4.5 The Media Institute of Southern Africa (MISA) Botswana

MISA Botswana has also proved to be an invaluable partner during the 13th Electoral Cycle. The IEC in partnership with MISA Botswana held six workshops ahead of the 2024 General Elections aimed at enhancing journalists' knowledge on the electoral processes. The workshops also involved media literacy for politicians, civil society, traditional leaders and special groupings such as youth and women organisations. The workshops were held in different locations in the central and southern regions of the country, with most participants being youth.

Picture 5: MISA Botswana/IEC Workshop Participants

3.4.6 Democracy Works Foundation (DWF)

Cross Party Training of Trainers' workshops on Poll watching and understanding the context, key terms and polling process in Botswana was conducted in collaboration with DWF targeting all registered political parties. The DWF is a Southern African non-profit organization focused on democracy development in the region with headquarters in South Africa.

3.4.7 Botswana Communication Regulatory Authority (BOCRA)

A Workshop on Enhancing Election coverage and reporting skills for broadcast journalists, podcasters and media practitioners was conducted in partnership with BOCRA. The workshop was attended by broadcasters and representatives of political parties.

3.4.8 Departments of Information and Broadcasting Services

A series of training workshops that focused on election coverage were held in partnership with the Departments of Information, and Broadcasting Services, for reporters (print, television and radio), photographers, camera persons, messenger reporters, editors, producers, anchors and other technical staff. The two Departments are at the core of information sharing and broadcasting services in the country, that have wide coverage across the country.

3.5 Voter Registration and Associated Activities

3.5.1 Voters' Registration

Voter Registration exercise was conducted under the tagline "Towards 2024 and Beyond...Register to Vote" (English version) and "A Reyeng 2024..Ikwadise o Tlhophe" (Setswana Version).

Picture 6: Voter Registration Taglines

Towards 2024 & Beyond...
Register to Vote !

A reyeng 2024...
Ikwadise o Tlhophe !

Activities tailored to start off the General Voter Registration (GVR) exercise were characterised by specific events such as debates, composition of GVR songs by local choirs, and erection of billboards across constituencies bearing customised registration messages including printing and distribution of GVR merchandise (T-shirts, caps, hats, pens). These were conducted in September 2023, ahead of the registration exercise.

Based on a population of 2 346 179 (2022 official census), projections showed that 1 715 656 Batswana were eligible to register to vote. In turn, the Commission set itself a target of people to register to vote at 1 300 000 (about 80%) in the 2024 General Elections.

The General Voters' registration exercise was initially scheduled to run from 1st to 30th November 2023 but the IEC decided to postpone it to allow a Court case registered by the Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) to be ventilated. Eventually, the Commission set the date for General Voter Registration from 5th January 2024 to 3rd February 2024 in all designated polling stations locally and in the diaspora.

Subsequently, the First Supplementary Voter Registration to cater for those who had not been registered during the General Voter Registration exercise was done from the 26th February to 15th March 2024. The second and last Supplementary voter registration took place from the 20th to the 31st May 2024.

3.5.2 Voters' Roll Inspection

A Voters Roll is a compilation of lists of people registered to vote in a particular election. A Voters Roll inspection is a central aspect of an electoral process. Section 16 (1) of the Electoral Act requires every existing roll to be open for inspection by the public for free. In accordance with the Electoral Act, the inspection of the General Voter Registration roll was initially set from the 22nd April to the 2nd June 2024. However, the IEC changed the roll inspection date from the 10th May 2024 to the 20th June 2024 to address concerns raised by political parties regarding the General Roll that had initially omitted voters residential addresses, which would make it difficult to raise an objection regarding a voter's registration.

The First Supplementary Voter Registration roll inspection ran for twenty-one (21) days from the 30th May to the 19th June 2024, while the second Supplementary voter Registration roll inspection also took place for twenty-one (21) days from the 5th July to the 25th July 2024.

All the queries that emanated from the roll inspection were attended to as and when they were brought to the attention of the IEC. Some of the issues raised related to missing or nonexistent plot numbers, incorrect village names, and voters validly registered but omitted from the roll.

3.5.3 Voter Registration Objections

Section 18 of the Electoral Act provides for objections to be raised in connection with registered voters. An objection may be raised by any person whose name is included in a roll for any constituency he has registered in and may be against any other name appearing for the constituency or in any other existing roll relating to that constituency. Objections raised can either be upheld or dismissed by the courts or withdrawn by the objector. A total of 206 objections were registered with the Magistrate Courts for various reasons. Out of the registered objections, 43 were upheld, 28 dismissed and 135 withdrawn. Voter trafficking remains one of the reasons why objections were raised against some registered voters.

3.5.4 Certification of Rolls

The SIEC is empowered to certify the voters roll in terms of Section 15 of the Electoral Act. In line with this, the General Voter Registration, First Supplementary Voter Registration and the Second Supplementary Registration rolls were certified on 14th August 2024.

At the time registration rolls were amalgamated and certified, the total number of voters recorded in the national registration (general registration, first supplementary and second supplementary registration), and disaggregated by gender were as presented in Figure 1 below. Females made 54% of those registered while the percentage of males stood at 46%, which was consistent with the country's demographics.

Botswana has a young population yet apathetic. The IEC had targeted to register 1 300 000 (about 80%) of those eligible. Despite its efforts to intensify its voter education, overall, the IEC recorded 1 038 275 voters (1 036 243 national and 2 032 Diaspora) for the 2024 General Elections. This was 80% of the target. Out of this, 845 318 or 81.4% of them voted in the General Elections.

Figure 3 below represents national registration of voters disaggregated by age groups. Compared to the 2019 General Elections aggregated voter registration by age category, Figure 3 shows that there has been an increase in voter registration by age groups for the 2024 General Elections, save for the 26-35 age category. This suggests a positive impact of the IEC's voter education programmes.

3.5.5 Transfer of Registration

The certification of rolls paved the way for the commencement of applications for transfer of registration by voters in accordance with Section 25 of the Electoral Act. This exercise continued until the dissolution of Parliament on the 5th September 2024.

Only persons whose principal residence changed after registering as voters are allowed to make an application for transfer of registration. IEC District Offices were inundated with applications for transfers from registered voters. There was a total of 4482 transfers out of which 60 were external and 4422 were local.

3.6 Recruitment and Training of Election Staff

3.6.1 Registration Officers

The recruitment of Registration officers was done from civil servants, retired officers and out-of-school youths. The SIEC constituted a total of twenty-nine (29) recruitment committees around the country to undertake the recruitment exercise. The committees were composed of Local Authorities and the IEC personnel within the district and all of them were trained for standardization before the recruitment exercise was conducted. Advertisements targeting both retired officers and youth were placed in the media, whilst serving civil servants were selected by their superiors to assist in the registration exercise.

3.6.2 Poll Staff

The recruitment and training of poll staff proceeded as planned to ensure a smooth and stable electoral process. Poll staff were drawn from the central government, local authorities, retired civil servants and unemployed youth. A total of thirty-two thousand four hundred and forty-nine (32 449) were recruited as poll staff. These served in various capacities such as Returning Officers, Assistant Returning Officers, Presiding Officers, Polling Officers, Tallying Officers, Tent Attendants, and Tent Caretakers.

3.7 Election Preparations

3.7.1 Logistics

A timely procurement and distribution of non-sensitive election material forms a critical aspect of preparations for elections. The IEC ensured that adequate material was procured to facilitate the smooth conduct of the 2024 General Elections (See Table 1). Tents, lights and water containers were used for polling stations located in places where there were no established structures.

Table 1: Materials issued to IEC Outstations During 2024 General Elections

Item	Total Number Issued
Marque Tents	1296
Lights (Cadac & Solar Lamps)	3624
Water containers	1289
Ballot Boxes	5712
Polling Booths	5712
Electronic device/gadget Receptacles	2856
Ballot paper Receptacle	3657

3.7.2 Printing of Voter Registration Books

The printing of voter registration books follows immediately after the demarcation of polling districts and establishment of polling stations because they are area specific. After all the 609 polling districts were demarcated and 2808 polling stations established locally, the IEC ensured that voter registration books were printed and delivered in sufficient quantities to all the 61 constituencies on time.

3.7.3 Transport

The preparation for and conduct of the General Elections requires mobilisation of transport resources to ensure the supply, retrieval of election materials and effective execution of the exercise. During the 2024 General Elections, road, air and water were utilised based on the type of terrain in the constituencies. Consequently, vehicles, aircrafts and boats were sourced for purposes of conducting the elections. The vehicles were utilised across the country while aircrafts and boats were used in the northern regions of the country where there were no roads, or the roads were in bad condition.

Owing to the magnitude of the exercise, many vehicles were required which the IEC could not raise from its fleet. The IEC has thirty-one (31) District Offices, and each has one vehicle. This was not enough because each of the 2808 polling station required one vehicle. Given this shortfall, the IEC engaged all government departments directly and through the Government Fleet Management (GFM) to assist with the provision of vehicles for use during the elections. Additionally, the SIEC authorised poll staff to utilise their private vehicles to compliment the government fleet.

4.0 ELECTION PHASE

This phase involves several activities such as dissolution of parliament, nomination of candidates, printing of ballot papers, campaigns, voting and announcement of the results.

4.1 Dissolution of Parliament

The President of the Republic of Botswana is empowered by the Constitution to dissolve Parliament. In a manner conforming with Section 91 (2) of the Constitution, Parliament was dissolved on the 5th September, 2024 and in turn the President issued a Writ of Elections that declared vacancies of Members of Parliament in all the 61 constituencies. In the same vein, the Minister of Local Government also issued an Election Instrument that declared vacancies for Local Authorities across all the 609 polling districts.

4.2 Presidential Nominations

Botswana does not have direct Presidential Elections. A Presidential Candidate whose party gains the majority of seats in Parliament as defined by the law becomes the President of the Country. Despite this, Presidential nominations are held in terms of the Presidential Elections (Supplementary Provisions) Act, on the first Saturday after 20 days had lapsed following the dissolution of Parliament. The Chief Justice acts as the Returning Officer during Presidential Nominations.

At the conclusion of the nomination process, Presidential Candidates from four (4) political parties namely, the Botswana Congress Party (BCP), the Botswana Democratic Party (BDP), the Botswana Patriotic Front (BPF) and the Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) were declared as validly nominated for the 2024 General Elections, as presented in Table 2 below.

Table 2: Presidential Candidates

Political Party	Name of Candidate
Botswana Congress Party	Dumelang Saleshando
Botswana Democratic Party	Mokgweetsi E. K. Masisi
Botswana Patriotic Front	Mephato Reatile
Umbrella for Democratic Change	Advocate Duma G. Boko

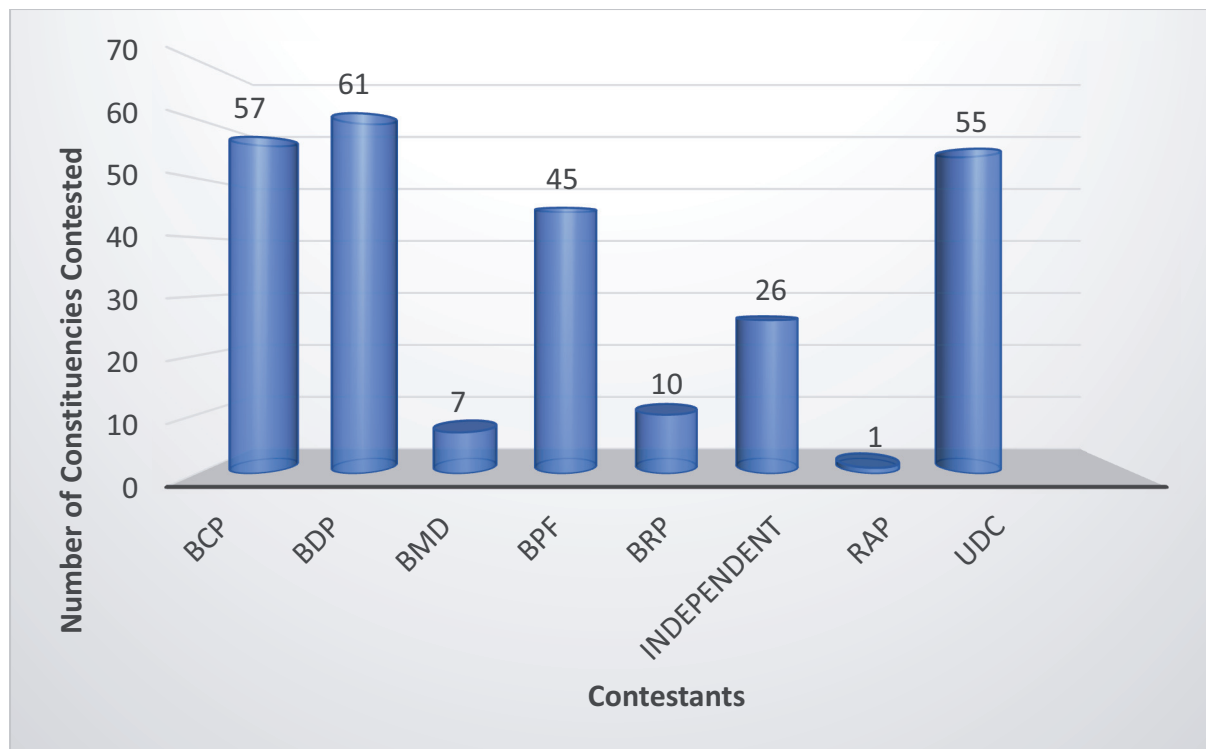

4.3 National Assembly Nominations

Section 35 of the Electoral Act provides for the nomination of candidates for the National Assembly. Consistent with the Electoral Act, the IEC established sixty-one (61) National Assembly Nomination Centres around the country to facilitate this process. The process was conducted by Returning Officers for the Constituencies.

4.3.1 Political Parties and Independent Candidates

At the conclusion of the nomination exercise, the BDP contested in all the 61 constituencies. It was followed by BCP, UDC, BPF, BRP, BMD and RAP at 57, 55, 45, 10, 7 and 1, respectively. There were also twenty-six (26) Independent Candidates that were validly nominated for the National Assembly Elections. These are indicated in Figure 4 below.

Figure 4: Number of Constituencies contested by Political Parties and Independent Candidates

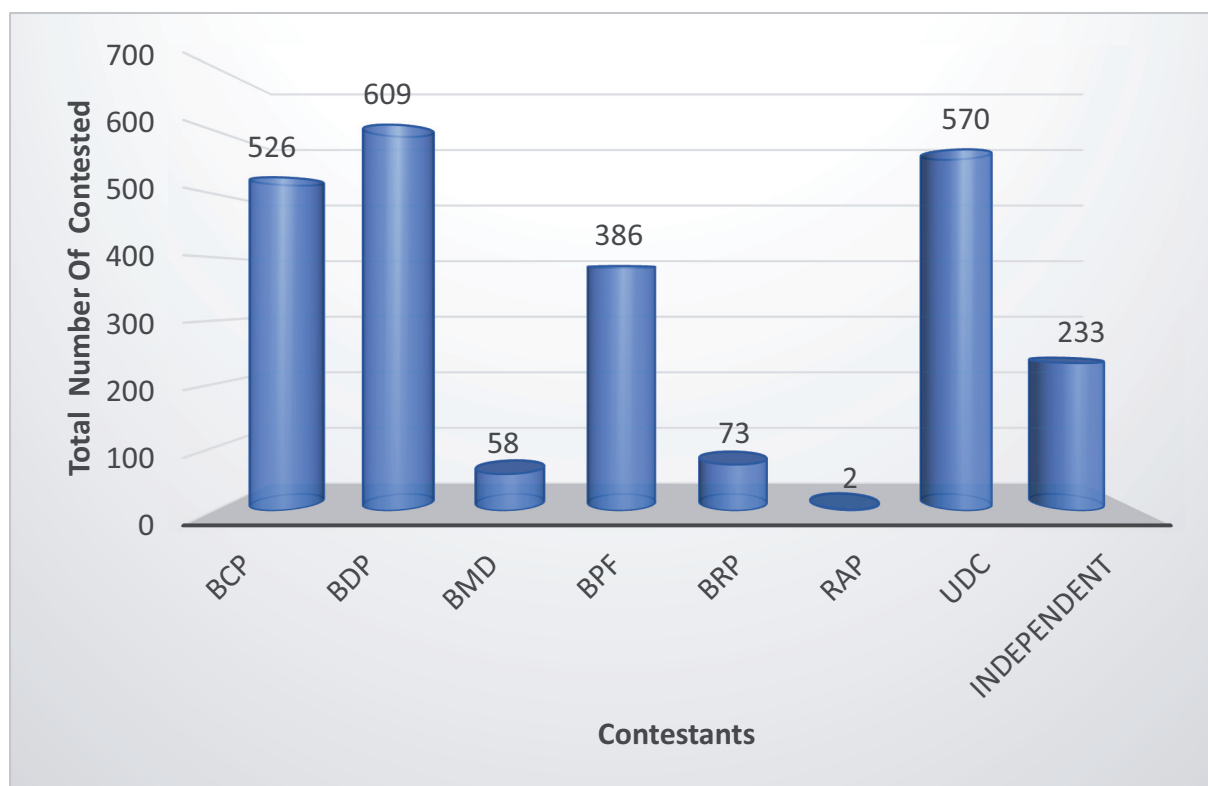

4.4 Local Government Nominations

There were six hundred and nine (609) Local Government Nomination Centres established around the country to facilitate the Local Government Nomination process. In the main, the nomination process ran smoothly. However, there were instances whereby some candidates from the same political party presented themselves at the same nomination centre as possible candidates for the same political party and same polling district. Their nominations were rejected by Returning Officers. Some returned later on during the day having resolved their internal political party issues and were validly nominated.

4.4.1 Political Parties and Independent Candidates

The BDP was the only political party which managed to have validly nominated candidates in all the 609 polling districts. The UDC, BCP, BPF, BRP, BMD and RAP fielded 570, 526, 386, 73, 58 and 2 candidates, respectively. Similarly, there were two hundred and thirty-three (233) Independent Candidates who were nominated in the Local Government Elections. All these are indicated in Figure 5 below.

4.5 Gender Parity

Lack of gender parity remained a challenge in Botswana’s political landscape during the 2024 General Elections. Although the country’s demographics suggest that there are more women than men, a few women competed for political office.

4.5.1 Gender Parity (National Assembly)

Out of two hundred and six-two 262 candidates who were nominated for parliamentary elections, 237 were males and 25 were females. This is depicted in Figure 6 below.

4.5.2 Gender Parity (Local Government)

Lack of gender parity was also evident in the Local Government Elections as the number of women remained low when compared to men who competed for political office. Out of two thousand four hundred and fifty-seven (2457) who contested, three hundred and seventy-nine (379) were women while the number of males who took part in those elections were two thousand and seventy-eight (2078), as reflected in Figure 7 below.

4.6 Printing of Ballot Papers

The printing of ballot papers is determined by the date nomination of candidates were completed as they are area specific. Following completion of the nominations, the IEC ensured that ballot papers were printed and delivered on time.

4.7 Accreditation of Election Observers

The 2024 General Elections attracted a broad array of local and international observer groups, compared to the 2019 General Elections. In order to facilitate the work of both local and international observers, the IEC ensured that they were accordingly accredited. A total of one thousand two hundred and twenty-eight (1228) local observers compared to 418 in 2019, and three hundred and six (306) international observers compared to 83 in 2019, were accredited by the IEC.

The accreditation process did not experience any challenges and all the observers were happy with it because unlike in the previous election years, the process was prompt and there were no queues that could have led to unnecessary delays.

Some election observer missions such as the SADC Election Observer Mission (SEOM), ECF- SADC, Commonwealth and the African Centre for Governance were able to conduct a pre-assessment tour prior to the day of the poll. However, other observer groups arrived in time for elections and were briefed on the preparedness of the IEC for the 2024 General Elections. Ambassadors of countries accredited to Botswana were also briefed prior to the national poll and accredited accordingly.

4.8 Polling

4.8.1 Advance Poll

In accordance with Section 61 of the Electoral Act, voting for polling officers and police officers on duty on the day of the elections was conducted 15 days before the date set for the General Elections. Consequently, Advance Poll took place on the 19th October 2024 in 61 polling stations locally.

Some challenges were encountered during the Advance Poll as some polling stations experienced a shortage of ballot papers. As a corrective measure, the IEC ordered a retake of Advance Poll at the affected polling stations on the 26th October 2024.

4.8.2 Diaspora Voting

Botswana introduced diaspora voting in 1999 following the 1997 referendum. Section 5(3) of the Electoral Act establishes polling stations at every Botswana Diplomatic Mission and at any other place the IEC may deem necessary.

Diaspora Voting took place on the same day as Advance Poll. However, as was the case with Advance Poll, the IEC ordered Diaspora Voting to be rerun in 11 Polling Stations on the 26th October 2024, owing to, among others, shortage of ballot papers.

4.8.3 General Poll

As reflected in Picture 7 Below, the General Poll took place on the 30th October 2024 in 61 Constituencies and 607 Polling Districts across the country, as per the Writ of Elections and the Local Government Election Instrument, respectively. The Writ of Elections in two polling districts of Mogapi and Lobatse Farms were countermanded by the SIEC following the death of some candidates after conclusion of the nomination process but before the elections were held.

Consistent with the country's established democratic tradition, the elections were peaceful and both the local and international election observers described them as having been free, fair, credible, transparent and in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Botswana.

Picture 7: General Poll Publicity

4.9 Counting and Announcement of Results

In accordance with the Electoral Act after the close of the poll, the Presiding Officer is required to transmit ballot boxes to counting centres for counting of the votes cast.

Transportation of ballot boxes to counting centres went smoothly in most constituencies, although there were isolated cases where there were attempts to block official vehicles out of polling stations. This was done by individuals who suspected that cheating may occur along the way, if they were not allowed to travel in the same vehicles that transported ballot boxes. However, Returning Officers intervened, and the process continued without any hindrance.

Counting was done in all constituencies and polling districts headquarters without any obstacles. The counting was done in the presence of candidates and their spouses, counting agents and election observers. As soon as the counting was completed, the Returning Officers announced the results and returned the endorsed Writ of Elections to the SIEC, marking the conclusion of the process for the constituency or polling district in accordance with the Electoral Act.

4.10 Results Centre

The results from the various counting centres were transmitted to the Results Centre situated at IEC Headquarters to offer a regular update on the status of the results and the election process, through an electronic election results dashboard.

4.10.1 National Assembly Elections Results

As indicated earlier, the 2024 General Elections were historic and consequential, as they delivered a change of government that ended 58 years of the Botswana Democratic Party's (BDP) rule. The opposition coalition Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) won 36 or 59.0% out of the 61 seats in the National Assembly. The Botswana Congress Party (BCP) won 15 seats or 24.6%, the Botswana Patriotic Front (BPF) 5 or 8.2%, the BDP 4 or 6.6% and 1 or 1.6% seat was won by an Independent Candidate. This is presented in Figure 8 below.

4.10.1.1 Spatial Distribution of Parliamentary Seats Across Districts

In terms of spatial distribution of Parliamentary seats across districts in Botswana, the BDP has won seats in Kgatleng, Mogoditshane, and Moshupa districts. The UDC is concentrated in Kgalagadi, Hukuntsi, Charleshill, Ghanzi, Mabutsane, Jwaneng, Kanye, Kgatlang, Gaborone, Mahalapye, Palapye, Francistown, Tonota, Boteti, Letlhakeng, Bobirwa, North-East, Tlokweng and Lobatse districts.

Similarly, the BCP has won seats in Okavango, Chobe, North-West, Bobirwa, Gamalete, Tutume, Mahalapye, Kgatlang, Selebi-Phikwe and North-East districts. The BPF's seats are in Serowe, Tutume and Tonota districts, while an Independent Candidate won a parliamentary seat in Goodhope district. All these are depicted in Figure 9 below.

4.10.1.2 Aggregation of Parliamentary Seat Won by Gender

In relation to aggregation of parliamentary seats by gender, there was no shift in terms of the number of females who won parliamentary seats in the 2024 General elections compared to the 2019 General Elections. Only three (3) won parliamentary seats: 2 from the UDC and 1 from the BCP as shown in Figure 10 below.

4.10.1.3 Percentage Share of Votes per Party at National Assembly

Figure 11 represents a share of the popular votes received by political parties that participated in the 2024 General Elections. The results demonstrate that none of the political parties registered more than 50% of the popular vote.

4.10.2 Local Government Election Results

At the local government level, there were 609 seats contested for in the 2024 General Elections. The UDC won Three Hundred (300) seats, BDP One Hundred and Thirty (130), BCP One Hundred and Twenty-Four (124), BPF 42, BRP 1 and Independent Candidates obtained 12 seats. BMD and RAP did not win a seat. Figure 12 below represents the distribution of Local Government seats won by each party and Independent Candidates.

4.10.2.1 Percentage Share of Votes per Party at Local Government

The percentage of votes received by each political party at the Local Government level is as displayed in Figure 13 below. As with parliamentary results, none of the political parties attracted more than 50% of the popular vote, suggesting a competitive election. The UDC attracted the highest percentage of votes at the Local Government level at 34% followed by the BDP at 32%.

4.10.2.2 Local Government Seats won by Gender

Out of 609 seats competed for, women won only forty-five (45) seats while men secured five hundred and sixty-four (564) seats. The results suggest a challenging political environment for women. This is represented by Figure 14 below.

4.10.2.3 Number of Administrative Districts won by Political Parties in Botswana

Table 3 below presents a summary of administrative districts won by each political party. Out of the Thirty-one (31) Administrative Districts, the UDC won 18 districts, the BCP 7, the BDP 3 and BPF 2. Only one administrative district, Charleshill, did not have a single majority winner, as the BDP and the UDC won 3 polling districts each while the BCP won 2.

Table 3: Administrative Districts Won Per Party

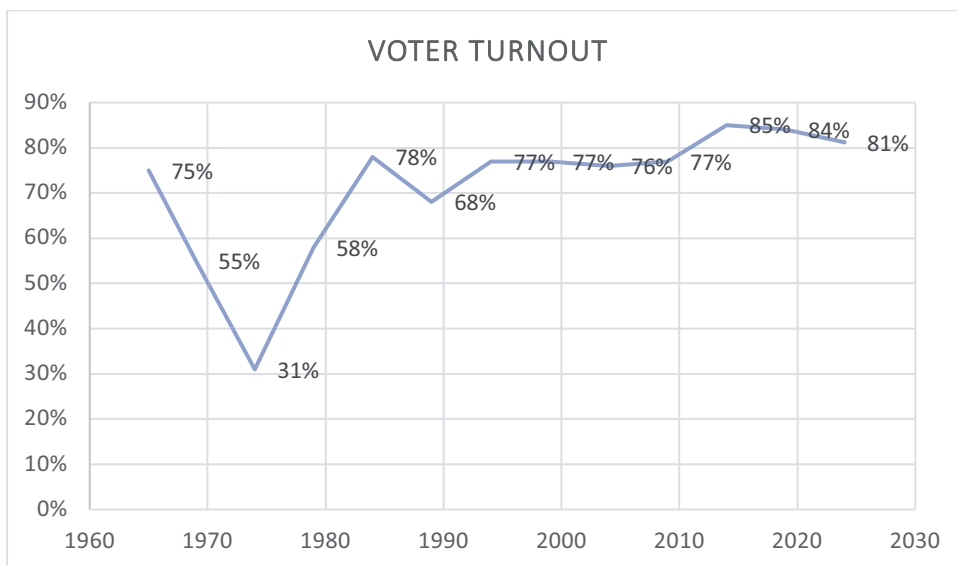

Party	Number of Administrative Districts
BCP	7
BDP	3
BPF	2
UDC	18
Total	30

4.11 Voter Turnout

Voter turnout is a critical barometer for gauging citizens participation and trust in the country's democratic process. Low voter turnout may signal a lack of trust in the political system while a higher voter turnout suggests citizens confidence in the political system and thus identify with it.

Out of the 1 038 275 voters registered for the 2024 General Elections, 845 318 participated in the elections, and nine thousand nine hundred and five (9,905) votes were rejected. This represents a voter turnout of 81.4%, compared to 84% in the 2019 General Elections. The voter participation rate may have decreased between the two elections. However, it remained higher than that of all the elections held between 1965 and 2009, suggesting that the IEC's voter education had a positive impact. This is depicted in Figure 15 below.

4.12 Countermanded Notice of Poll: Lobatse Farms Polling District & Mogapi Polling District

During preparations for the 2024 General Elections, the SIEC received satisfactory proof of the death of nominated candidates in Mogapi and Lobatse Farms Polling Districts in the Tswapong North and Gamalete Constituencies respectively, after the nominations but before the taking of the poll. On receiving such proof, the SIEC proceeded to countermand the Notice of the Poll in those Polling Districts in accordance with Section 47 of the Electoral Act.

The elections for the two Polling Districts were held on the 30th November, 2024. The Mogapi Polling District was contested by four political parties, namely, the BCP, the BDP, the BPF and the UDC. Mr Sekoba Boitumelo of the BCP won the seat with four hundred and seventy votes (470), Mr Mooketsi Chilly Gaedupe of the BPF secured two hundred and ninety-Six (296), Mr Motlhasedi Peter of the UDC One Hundred and fifty-eight (158) and Mr Mokaro Batshedile of the BDP ninety-six (96).

Equally, four political parties competed in the Lobatse Farms Polling District. The seat was won by Mr Tshotlego Lesley Lesedi of the UDC with Eighty (80) votes, Ms Bruwer Anne Catherine of the BPF got Fourty-Eight (48) votes, Mr Thelo Raophala Kobamelo of the BCP Forty-Five (45) and Ms Pandor Shereen of the BDP thirty-Six (36) votes.

4.13 Election Observation

Election observation has become an established instrument and practice in democracies that is used to offer an independent assessment on the fairness and freeness of an electoral process. It ensures that an election is conducted in accordance with national, regional and international norms and standards. It has therefore become a seal of approval of an electoral process that promotes the credibility of an electoral process, and in turn the stability of a country.

Consequently, a host of local and international organizations, Embassies and High Commissions observed the pre-election and election phases of the elections. Key among the international observers who subsequently released statements on the conduct of the 2024 Botswana General Elections were SADC, ECF-SADC, Commonwealth and African Union. In the main, the elections were assessed positively by both local and international observers. Observers declared that the elections were free, fair, peaceful, credible, transparent and conducted in accordance with the national laws of the Republic of Botswana.

5.0 POST ELECTION PHASE

5.1 Election Petitions

An Election petition is the only procedure used to dispute or object to an election result in democracies. In line with this, the electoral law in Botswana provides for election petitions to be registered with the High Court within a period of 30 days following the release of election results.

Unlike in the 2019 General Elections where 24 (16 Parliamentary and 8 Local Government) election petitions were recorded, only two (2) Local Government Election petitions were registered in the 2024 General Elections suggesting that the IEC conducted a successful election where the majority accepted the outcome of the elections. The two petitions were recorded in Mogatsapoo Polling District in Serowe South constituency and Tshweneng-Ledumang Polling District in Gaborone North constituency.

In Mogatsapoo Polling District two candidates from the same political party appeared before a Returning Officer during nomination each one of them claiming to represent their political party for nomination. The Returning Officer rejected both of them and the party was not represented in the General Elections. One of them petitioned to the Courts however, the matter was dismissed with costs.

At Tshweneng-Ledumang Polling District a candidate who lost the elections with three votes also went to Court challenging the same results. However, she withdrew the case before the matter was heard in Court. Accordingly, the petitions in relation to the Local Government Elections have been successfully closed.

5.2 Expenditure

Owing to the nature and magnitude of the exercise, elections are undoubtedly a costly undertaking that consume significant financial resources for them to be managed and conducted efficiently.

In total five hundred and twenty-eight million two hundred thousand four hundred and eighty-six thousand Pula (P528,200,486) was availed by the Government for the management and conduct of the 2024 General Elections. The funds were for voter registration, polling and all other expenses associated with the preparations and running of the General Elections.

All in all, the funds were sufficient for the IEC to deliver the General Elections in 2024. However, the IEC experienced delays in payments to both poll staff and suppliers due to challenges relating to the Government Accounting and Budgeting System (GABS).

6.0 LESSONS LEARNT

It is important to note that in addition to having brought in a new Government, the 2024 General Elections exposed the IEC to knowledge and experiences, that will be used to inform future actions and improve decision making in the Commission.

These include the following:

6.1 Electoral Reforms

It is critical that any amendments to electoral laws should be done well in time. Some of the amendments to the Electoral Act such as the re-introduction of indelible ink was done in August 2024 while the elections were held in October of the same year. There was therefore no time to educate the voters about the re-introduction of the indelible ink hence some were accusing the IEC of using ordinary felt pens on the day of the poll not knowing that those were indelible ink markers.

6.2 Stakeholder Engagement

Even though the IEC used full council meetings, Kgotla meetings and other public fora to reach out to different stakeholders, that was inadequate to cover everybody. Therefore, in future the IEC will come up with innovative ways of ensuring that all stakeholders were covered with public education continually, regularly and well in time. Covering all stakeholders will allow them to understand the mandate of the IEC as well as inculcate trust between the two.

6.3 Logistics

In electoral management, it is critical that all logistical arrangements are put in place several months before the month of the General Elections to engender certainty and confidence in the electoral process. There were instances where the IEC experienced shortage of some election materials during the 2024 General Elections. This was mainly due to internal logistical glitches that would not be allowed to recur in future.

6.4 Elections and Technology

Most EMBs around the world use technologies with the aim of improving electoral processes. The modern-day voter, especially the youth, prefer the use of technologies in elections to avert unnecessary delays. All electoral processes in Botswana are manual in nature and voters are already signaling that they prefer the use of technologies. Consequently, electronic voter registration will be introduced as part of the preparations for the 2029 General Elections.

6.5 Misinformation and Disinformation in Elections

The advent of social media has brought with it increased cases of misinformation and disinformation in the electoral space. This was common during the 2024 General Elections and there was also a lot of deliberate distortions of facts. This is to be expected in a politically charged environment, especially on the year of the General Elections. Going forward, the Commission will strengthen its Communications Unit and come up with a robust Communications Strategy to counter elements of misinformation, disinformation and distortion of facts.

6.6 Elections, Safety and Security

The organisation and conduct of credible elections demand adherence to principles, that in practice, promote the safety and security of both election materials and election staff. During the preparations for the 2024 General Elections there were sporadic acts of intimidation and threats against the leadership of the IEC. There was also an incident whereby some elections materials were snatched and ran away with by an interested party. These occur even in other countries when voters are in the mood for elections. Going forward the IEC will strengthen security around its personnel and election materials.

7.0 CONCLUSION

The 2024 General Elections have affirmed Botswana as a stable and long-standing democracy in Africa, which separates it from most of its peers where elections are associated with instability. This is an unparalleled record that offers lessons to most of its peers and beyond. The country held its general elections, the 13th in succession, on 30th October 2024. The elections, which were the sixth to be organised by the IEC, were historic and consequential, as they marked a change of government that ended 58 years of the Botswana Democratic Party's (BDP) rule. The elections were won by the opposition coalition, the Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC), which secured 36 seats out of 61 in the National Assembly and in turn, the country registered a seamless transfer of power, thus offering lessons to other countries in the region and beyond. This peaceful transfer of power affirmed the country's democratic trajectory, attracting approval internationally. The results also affirmed that the electoral management body was competent to conduct a successful election despite doubts over its independence. Evidently, this is an unprecedented record in Africa.

Undoubtedly, comprehensive civic and voter education is central to realise a legitimate, sustained and stable democracy, as it accords the voter the freedom to make critical and informed decisions when exercising their democratic right to vote. As civic education fell outside the mandate of the IEC, this was conducted by several key stakeholders such as political parties, civil society organisations and the media. The IEC commends these stakeholders for utilising their limited resources to advance these critical aspects of the electoral process. It is imperative that these aspects are scaled up and properly coordinated to ensure a robust democracy.

In recognition of the importance of voter education in an electoral process, the IEC also engaged extensively with a wide spectrum of stakeholders throughout the electoral cycle through its thirty-one (31) District Offices, in a bid to inform and educate voters on both the electoral and voting processes. The most frequently used forum in conducting voter education that targeted the general public were Kgotla meetings. Furthermore, workshops and activities were conducted that targeted the youth, Women, the Faith Sector and community leadership to ensure that tailored voter education reached the intended audience. In addition, voter education materials such as posters, pamphlets and booklets (including picture books, voting instructions for the visually impaired) were developed to aid in bringing out the message on the 2024 elections.

Based on the 2022 population census of 2 346 179, projections suggested that 1 715 656 Batswana were eligible to register to vote. In turn, the IEC set itself a target of eligible voters at 1 300 000 (about 80%) in the 2024 General Elections. Voter registration was initially scheduled to run from 1st to 30th November 2023 but the IEC decided to postpone it to allow a court case registered by the Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) to be concluded. The UDC wanted to observe the voter registration exercise, but it was not successful in its bid in court for the law does not currently allow for such a dispensation.

Eventually, the IEC set the date for General Voter Registration from 5th January 2024 to 3rd February 2024 in all designated polling stations locally and in the diaspora. The subsequent office based First Supplementary Voter Registration to cater for those who had not been registered during the General Voter Registration occurred on 26th February to 15th March 2024. The second and last Supplementary voter registration took place on 20th to 31st May 2024. Overall, 1, 038, 275 voters were recorded.

In accordance with Section 61 of the Electoral Act, Advance Poll and Diaspora Voting were conducted on 19th October 2024 in 61 polling stations locally. However, Advance Poll and Diaspora Voting faced some challenges as some polling stations experienced a shortage of ballot papers. As a corrective measure, the IEC ordered a retake of Advance Poll and Diaspora voting at the affected polling stations on 26th October 2024.

The General Poll took place on the 30th October 2024 in 61 Constituencies and 607 Polling Districts across the country, as per the Writ of Elections and the Local Government Election Instrument, respectively. The notice of poll in two polling districts were countermanded due to deaths of some of the candidates after nomination but before the day of elections.

Seven political parties, the Botswana Congress Party (BCP), the Botswana Democratic Party (BDP), the Botswana Movement for Democracy (BMD), the Botswana Patriotic Front (BPF), the Botswana Republican Party (BRP), the Real Alternatives Party (RAP), and the Umbrella for Democratic Change (UDC) contested the National Assembly and Local Government elections. Moreover, twenty-six (26) and Two Hundred and thirty-three (233) Independent Candidates contested the National Assembly and Local Government elections, respectively. The opposition coalition UDC won 36 out of the 61 seats in the National Assembly. The BCP won 15 seats, the BPF 5, the BDP 4 and 1 seat was won by an Independent Candidate. The BMD, BRP and RAP did not win a seat.

Consistent with the country's established democratic practice, the elections were peaceful despite media speculations that suggested they were likely to be marred by violence. The elections were assessed positively by both local and international observers, who publicly declared that they were free, fair, peaceful, transparent, credible and conducted in accordance with the national laws of the Republic of Botswana.
